It was reported that the youngster had a fractured collarbone and a concussion. (Staff Photo)

Charter Study Group Has Unlimited Range

A proposed 15-member committee to look at town government is apparently unrestricted in its approach to the study.

Selectman Philip K. Allen, who proposed creation of the committee explained his thinking on the responsibilities of the group Monday night, after being queried by the Townsman.

He believes the members should consult with all town officials, employees, and others concerned with the operation of the municipality, then make recommendations for any changes they believe to be desirable.

Asked whether the committee had implied authority to even recommend changing the town manager charter completely, Mr. Allen said it has. But he hastened to add that this is a most remote possibility - not one he believes probable.

He explained that the membership of the committee will be representative of the town - geographically, socially, politically . . . including those who support the manager system and those who opposed it. Thus, he said, there would appear to be little chance that a wholesale change would be recommended.

Membership on the committee is now being studied by Mr. Allen who has secured lists of potential appointees from the other Selectmen. Those whose names seem to meet common agreement will be

Students Hiked Their 50 Miles

Six students from Andover High School elected to hike 50 miles on Good Friday, partly for recreation but more to prove a point concerning self discipline and physical conditioning.

Mollie Anderson, Pamela McAninch Leslie Stackhouse, Harry Dustin Tom Coffman, Allen Heifetz and Charles Vickers, a senior at Tenney High School in Methuen left the South Church Friday morning at 3 a.m. for the town hall in Essex, a distance of 25 miles.

An officer on the police force inquired as to their intentions upon their departure from the Square. The trip mapped out in advance, took the hikers through North Andover, Topsfield, to Bradley State Park, and south to Route 22 just west of Essex. One mistake caused the crew to go eight miles off their course. Mrs. Frank Stenberg of Essex received the weary hikers and prepared hot soup for them before the return trip.

Five of the seven completed the 50 miles, which took until 8 p.m. Mileage was checked by Mrs. Adeline Wright of Andover who spent the day in escort of the students. Mrs. Wright carried extra shoes, socks, lunches and first aid supplies in her car, meeting the hikers at important intersections.

Sidewalk Bazaar Coming In June

Plans for Andover's annual Old Fashioned Sidewalk Bazaar are now underway by the Andover Board of Trade which sponsors this retail sale carnival type, event.

According to Robert Phinney, vice president of the Board and chairman of the retail activities the tentative dates for this year's bazaar are Friday and Saturday, June 21 and 22.

Organizations which wish to sponsor booths or tables during the bazaar are urged to contact Mr. Phinney or the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce office in writing stating the type of activities the organization wants to sponsor as soon as possible. "It is important that we know the number of organizations and the

Tyer Rubber Warehouse Sold To C. Lincoln Giles

The Tyer Rubber Corp. warehouse on North Main st. has been sold to C. Lincoln Giles.

The local contractor signed agreements with Tyer officers Tuesday morning.

President Wallace E. Brimer emphasized that the sale in no way affects the manufacturing potential of the Tyer Rubber Corp. Rather, the firm's warehousing has been consolidated with that of its parent company, Converse Rubber. This is presently handled in the Wood Mill in Lawrence.

Mr. Giles has suggested several possible uses for the property - perhaps as an automobile supply center, or as a site for light manufacturing. There are some 100,000 feet of available space in the four-story structure.

It was last used for manufacturing during World War II - Tyer

What do you do with the dollars I leave here?

A fair question

Well, here's how we keep your dollars safe:

We spread most of them among fine, conservative, first mortgages mostly on homes in this region, where you can see them. This "scattering" makes your money much safer than if you, yourself, loaned it to somebody on a first mortgage.

These mortgages are all reduced by regular payments, so they get smaller and therefore safer and better every month. We also keep some of your dollars in reserve — cash or government bonds — as another safety factor.

And to add still greater safety, there's that insurance of your account IN FULL under Massachusetts laws.

With all this safety, you get good dividends, compounded quarterly on all savings accounts.

type of activities they wish to sponsor in the near future, so that plans can be made to include everyone who wants to participate in this popular event," Mr. Phinney stated.

Each year since its inception the "Old Fashioned Sidewalk Bazaar" has grown in size and popularity. "We expect that this year's bazaar will be the biggest and best ever", Raymond B. DeRuisseau the Board's president said.

Last years' event featured an outdoor fish chowder supper, a square dance on Main st., rides for the children, an old fashioned organ grinder with his monkey and a concert by the Clan McPherson Bagpipe Band, in addition to the booths by local organization and the sales by the merchants.

Organizations which participated last year were: Pilgrim Fellowship South Church; Ladies Auxiliary, Scottish Clans; Beta Sigma Phi Sorority; Catholic Daughters; Order of Eastern Star; Junior Chamber of Commerce; American Red Cross; A. P. C. Sorority; American Legion Auxiliary; Andover Sportsmen's Club; West End Community Center; The Andona Society; League of Women Voters; Shawsheen Heights Improvement Assn.; Catholic Youth Organization; St. Matthew's Lodge; Girl's Friendly of Christ Church; and the Free Church Cub Scouts.

Classifications OK'd By Board

The Selectmen have officially approved the classification of many town government personnel, as reported last week in the Townsman.

Action came at Monday night's meeting, after a brief discussion of the plumbing inspector's situation.

Acting chairman Philip K. Allen emphasized that action is being taken for the protection of the individuals and stressed that implications must not be drawn from the discussion.

The contention among Board members is that it would be best to have someone act as plumbing inspector who is not doing business in the town, even though this business is domestic rather than municipal.

The Board asked to have a list made available from the state, of all master plumbers in the town, for future consideration.

They also briefly discussed the eventual appointment of a person on a full-time basis as the need grows.

Firefighting Is Drudgery Most Of The Time

By Dave Young

Ever want to be a fireman?

Most kids do at some time or other; and many grownups are kids at heart when it comes to chasing the fire trucks half way across town.

But take it from me - don't join up.

Not unless you like soot, and soggy feet; don't mind smoke in your eyes or a wet trickle down your back.

For the sake of reporting to all the kids and grownup-kids, this reporter joined forces with the fire department last Saturday - a day when the burning index was upwards of 100 and the grass fire brigade promised to be busy. It sure enough was.

Lt. Ray LaRosa was boss of the three-man crew, including Bob West and Wally Runge. They got the first calls for the brush and grass fires. Engine 4 carries 250 gallons of water, with enough small hose to reach well into any grass field or woods.

The initial task isn't so bad - the urgent necessity of putting out the fire overshadows the jab of brambles or the weight of the hose. But after the fire is under control . . . that's the part to watch out for.

Then it's a matter of wetting down the area. If there are lots of stumps, all smoking the time consumed can be forever. In between, of course you uncouple the hose and go off down the street for some more water, then recouple the lines and wet it down some more.

This is the part of fire fighting that most people never see - the wetting down, moving hose, coiling it, lugging it. And it's the part that takes most of your time and energy. Then, eventually, there's the little matter of washing it all and hanging it in the tower at the station to dry.

They're nice guys, these firefighters, and we need the type of good fire department they provide. But take my advice.

If you know when you're well off, stay a spectator. That way, you can leave when the excitement is over and the drudgery has begun.

That's what I'm going to do from now on.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Read of Auburndale, Mrs. Fred Steeves of Wellesley and Mrs. Edward Hatch of West Newbury were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Read II of Rolling Ridge rd. Sunday.

Holt House, Dedicated By DAR, Has Rich History

The highlight of the April meeting of Priscilla Abbot Chapter, DAR, was the dedication of a plaque put on the Nicholas Holt house on Holt hill, the home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Kimball and their family.

The ceremony was held out doors, and the members of the Chapter and their guests enjoyed the wonderfully clear views to the south, taking in the new Prudential tower in Boston, and other more familiar landmarks, just as the townspeople of Andover witnessed the burning of Charlestown in 1776.

The guests were greeted by Mr. Kimball and his mother, Mrs. C. Carleton Kimball, who acted as hostess. After the program, the group was shown through the old-fashioned rooms, which, though modernized in the way of heat and plumbing, still retained the original wide floor boards, heavy ceiling beams, and hideaway closets.

Mrs. Edwin Otto, the regent, opened the meeting, and the invocation was given by the Rev. J. Edison Pike, rector of Christ Church. Patriotic exercises followed; led by Mrs. Roland Weeks, ex-regent. As chairman of the Plaque Committee, she introduced Mr. Kimball, who gave a history of the house.

He spoke of his grandmother, Mrs. Ward, a DAR member of Hannah Goddard chapter of Brookline, and an associate member of Priscilla Abbot chapter before her death in 1956, whose ancestor, Captain Felt, defied the British and kept them from crossing a bridge into Boston, even before the Revolution had actually begun. Mrs. Ward came back to Andover and the old homestead in 1917, after it had been out of the family for a few years, and turned part of the estate into a reservation for the town of Andover.

The original Nicholas Holt settled in Andover in 1645, and had 10 children. One, Timothy Holt, probably a grandson of Nicholas, is supposed to have built the house which was dedicated at the meeting. It consisted of four rooms originally, and the salt-box effect or style was added on later. It was a pretty chilly house in those days, set on a hill with no central heating, nor indoor sheathing, but as the years went on, improvements were made until it became a very livable home.

In 1882 it passed out of the family for a time Miss Sarah Sawyer being its occupant, but the family came back again in 1917. During Miss Sawyer's occupancy, a cyclone struck the town of Andover in 1902 and much damage was done to the property, but the house withstood the wind, showing how sturdily it had been built.

Mrs. Leo O'Connor, ex-regent of Priscilla Abbot Chapter, then a little girl named Bessie Sellers, was visiting in the house at the time of the cyclone, but remembers little about it as she slept through it all.

After Mrs. Ward's death, Mr. Kimball and his family came to live here and they have made many improvements which have added to the livableness of the home. As Mr. Kimball said, the house is not a museum but a home to be lived in and enjoyed.

The benediction followed, given by Mrs. Ernest Edmands, Chapter Chaplain and the gathering repaired to the house where refreshments were served by Mrs. George Glennie, Mrs. Jesse Bottomley, Mrs. Will Brown and Mrs. Arthur Bonner.

A short business meeting was held with reports from the various committees being given. Mrs. Edward Thompson spoke about the historical tours to be given the fifth grade children of the public schools, and Mrs. Otto told about the State conference which she attended in Boston. She said that the project of the Massachusetts chapters this year is to start renovating the Massachusetts room in Continental Hall in Washington.

The annual meeting of the Chapter will be held at the home of Mrs. Frank Hayes in Hampton, N. H. May 14 and the annual reports will be given at that time.

time of the cyclone, but remembers little about it as she slept through it all.

After Mrs. Ward's death, Mr. Kimball and his family came to live here and they have made many improvements which have added to the livableness of the home. As Mr. Kimball said, the house is not a museum but a home to be lived in and enjoyed.

The benediction followed, given by Mrs. Ernest Edmands, Chapter Chaplain and the gathering repaired to the house where refreshments were served by Mrs. George Glennie, Mrs. Jesse Bottomley, Mrs. Will Brown and Mrs. Arthur Bonner.

A short business meeting was held with reports from the various committees being given. Mrs. Edward Thompson spoke about the historical tours to be given the fifth grade children of the public schools, and Mrs. Otto told about the State conference which she attended in Boston. She said that the project of the Massachusetts chapters this year is to start renovating the Massachusetts room in Continental Hall in Washington.

The annual meeting of the Chapter will be held at the home of Mrs. Frank Hayes in Hampton, N. H. May 14 and the annual reports will be given at that time.

Library Week Events Planned

All book lovers are urged to save some time during the week of April 22 to visit their library.

In National Library Week, observed throughout the nation by libraries, book-publishers, schools and bookstores, the public is reminded again of the wonderful gift that books and reading have made to the civilized world. The Memorial Hall Library has planned displays of the best of the spring publications for both the adult reading room and the children's room. Tables of colorful, fascinating books are attractive always, and in addition there will be the spring flowers to add a note of cheer.

There will be a special display of books selected for their clear, large print, suggested for those who feel that they must avoid reading because of eye difficulties. These titles were selected from a list "Easy On Your Eyes" compiled by the Adult Education Committee of the Massachusetts Library Association and published by the New England Council of Optometrists. Dr. William V. Emmons O. D. of Andover is a member of their publication committee. The scope of these titles is wide covering fiction, biographies travel, humor, nature, art and music, history and man's faith.

Notable Books of 1962 will be on view, as in previous spring festivals. These books have been selected as the outstanding publications of the previous year.

The home library of important and necessary reference books has not been overlooked. A special display of the "Thrifty Thirteen Dollar Library", prepared by the library staff, is on display. This is a set of paperback books all available for thirteen dollars which covers the needs of an average family. There are lists of these books near the display available to readers.

An interesting evening has been planned for would-be artists Thursday April 25. Details of this talk by Justin Curry are given elsewhere.

Three Cars In Rt. 133 Crash

A three-car accident sent several persons to the hospital Thursday afternoon, April 11.

The collision took place on Lowell st., at the Route 93 interchange, and involved two foreign-made cars and one of domestic manufacture.

Police said Judith N. Ferry, 22, 12 Wildwood cir. Wellesley, operated one vehicle; a second was operated by Alexander Belida, 90 Longmeadow dr. Lowell; and the third by Malonson P. Lewis, 27 Maude st. Lowell.

According to the police report, the Belida car was halted on Route 133 in preparation for a turn. The Ferry car allegedly struck the stopped car, and caused it to move into the path of an oncoming vehicle driven by Mr. Lewis. The force of that impact drove the Belida car back into the Ferry car a second time, the report continued.

Taken to Lawrence General Hospital were Miss Ferry, Mr. Belida and Mrs. Rosalie Belida.

Flather Elected Society Head

"The Formation of a Community in 17th and 18th Century Andover" was the subject of a lecture by Philip Greven a teaching fellow and tutor at Harvard, at the annual meeting of the Andover Historical Society held April 11 at the November Club.

The 34 original settlers in Andover came from the ports to get land, not for religious reasons, stated Mr. Greven. The first and second generations received large tracts of land, intermarried in the community, and remained in Andover. But beginning with the third generation, during the fourth generation and thereafter, the growing scarcity of land forced the sons to move to New Hampshire and Connecticut. The movement west started later.

The Church was really the government - a theocracy. Out of the 34 original settlers, 32 belonged to the Church. Holders of large tracts of land in the first and second generations held the important offices and enjoyed great prestige.

Engaged in writing his doctoral thesis on Andover as the symbol of local town government in the United States in that era, Mr. Greven urges the people of Andover with attics - those with ranch houses are excepted - to search for diaries and private letters of the 17th and 18th centuries as they are the best source material for learning about the Andover of those years.

A business meeting conducted by the president, Frederick S. Allis Jr., was held before the lecture with the reading of various reports and the election of officers and directors.

The following officers were elected for the year 1963-'64: president, Frederick Flather Jr.; vice president Dr. Charles A. Currier; vice president, Charles W. Arnold; treasurer, Dr. William V. Emmons; recording secretary, Mrs. Waters Kellogg; corresponding secretary Miss Irene McCarthy.

Directors elected for three years were Frederick E. Cheever, Arthur W. Cole, and Mrs. Henry J. Stevenson.

During the social hour, Mrs. Frederick Flather Jr. poured and Mrs. Donald Amy Mrs. W. H. D. Stott and Miss Meredith Thiras served the refreshments.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

A Fine Institution

As National Library Week approaches – week of April 21 – we like to take a moment to reflect on the value of the Memorial Hall Library to the community.

Our local library is not merely a location where books may be found, if one cares to read them.

The services it offers, to young and old, in and out of the building, are commendable. And the outreach of the library into the schools is, in itself, a most valuable asset to any town.

Andover is enriched by having a vigorous, lively, friendly library, dedicated to service of all types within the community.

We wish that all communities could be as fortunate.

Pay Attention To Safety First

The problems surrounding pedestrian use of Beacon st., and crossing the intersection of Beacon st. and Chandler rd., were before the Selectmen Monday night.

And although the town officials promised to study the situation, we felt that their decision did not go far enough.

Many small children will be walking to school along that street, starting next September. It is one of the worst intersections in town; Beacon st. itself is unsafe for elementary school pupils, without sidewalks and far too narrow.

Long range planning aside, it appears to us that some action should be taken this summer, to insure better protection for the school children next fall. The complaints of speeding, racing, and other dangerous driving conditions in that area compel us to believe that it is not safe for small children without prompt and effective action by the town, via sidewalk construction and changes in the intersection itself.

Engineer Isn't An Architect

One of the items discussed at town meeting in March, in reference to preliminary architectural plans for additional town structures on Lewis st., was the availability of the town engineer to do this work.

Officials had asked for funds for the plans, so that a reasonable request could be made another year for money to build the structures. The Finance Committee and Taxpayers Association opposed the request, on grounds that it was too early for this to be done.

But the comment was also made that the town engineer can do this work, without extra compensation for a consultant.

In this particular case, it is, and has been for years, illegal for a non-registered architect to draw plans for most sizeable structures. Thus the engineer can't do this job, other than the allied engineering work on site placement, etc.

When the position of engineer was established, it was also believed that consultants would not be needed as frequently as had been the case, on problems of drainage, water and sewage.

If money is to be saved, it is in this area, rather than in asking the engineer to do a job the law says he may not do.

We would suggest that the town make a study of all the money paid out in 1962, and in 1963, for consulting services of an engineering nature – then determine where economies can be made via the do-it-ourselves approach.

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago – April, 1887

The Academy campus is being carefully levelled and rolled, in preparation for summer use. The ruins of the Mansion House are providing some material for the work.

The West Parish is supplying the British Isles with Poultry stock. George Trow sold a setting of Wyandotte eggs yesterday, which are to go to England.

The Almshouse has accommodated 359 tramps since Feb. 5.

James Napier and Alexander Spark arrived here from Arbroath, Scotland last Thursday.

50 Years Ago – April, 1913

A special election for the new Board of Public Works will be held May 3. The aspirants, for three years, are E. W. Boutwell Lewis T. Hardy Barnett Rogers; for the two-year term, Granville K. Cutler, Willis B. Hodgkins, Andrew McTernen; for the one-year term, Henry A. Bodwell Thomas E. Rhodes.

The Andover Coal Company office will be moved soon to the Musgrove Building in the office now being used by the Chin Sewey Laundry.

The formal opening of the recently remodeled Playstead took place last Saturday morning with Myron E. Gutterson throwing the first ball to Colver J. Stone, acting as catcher.

25 Years Ago – April, 1938

Two special articles were overwhelmingly defeated Wednesday night at the special town meeting. They dealt with re-surfacing Elm st. and building sidewalks along that public way. The Taxpayers Association was vigorous in its opposition, while proponents were mainly part-time BPW employees, who had supported the article when it was defeated at the regular meeting.

Another free dog clinic will be held in Ballardvale tomorrow, under Board of Health sponsorship.

The Selectmen and two remaining members of the Board of Health will fill the vacancy created by the death of Dr. W. Dacre Walker.

The annual May breakfast is to be held in the Legion rooms next Saturday morning.

The School Committee has taken no action on appointing a new bus driver for the recently-created route. There are many applicants.

Punchard has joined the Merrimack Valley Suburban League, and has abolished admissions, as two ways to stimulate interest in baseball. It is hoped that more people will attend the games if there is no charge.

10 Years Ago – April, 1953

A blanket of 5-7 inches of wet, heavy snow covered the town Tuesday in an unseasonable snowstorm that felled large tree branches, broke power and telephone lines and created many traffic problems. Monday's day-long rain turned into slush in the late evening, with the temperature hovering just above freezing. But it was cold enough to snow to the regret of many residents and the town highway department which had all its snow-fighting equipment dismantled for the year.

The second annual laymen's Communion Breakfast will be held May 17 in the Baptist Church, sponsored by the Council of Churches.

Practically all of the town's appointed officials were re-named by the Selectmen Monday night.

The first annual all-sports banquet is being planned by the Boosters for the last week in May.

Kenneth L. Sherman, who is leaving town after serving as superintendent of schools, was feted twice last week.

What Our Readers Say—

To the Editor of the Townsman:

"I am disturbed by the deeper implications of Irene McCarthy's letter in last week's Townsman.

"My friend Irene objects to three things: budget paring by the Finance Committee, the motion of the Taxpayers Association asking for a reduction in the budget, and (although she does not specifically mention the voters) the decision by the voters, without which the reduction could not have occurred.

"Isn't she saying, in effect, that the town's employees, and not the town's citizens should determine what the taxpayer should pay for town services?

"If I read history correctly, it teaches that rivers have run red with human blood down through the centuries - blood shed for the express purpose of taking the power of appropriation out of the hands of government and putting it into the hands of the people. This is the very essence of democracy.

"The tendency of government personnel to believe that they know best what is good for the public is a tendency against which the public must be ever vigilant. At the heart of the matter is the question: Whose town is this, and who is accountable to whom?

"In passing, I would like to try to squelch once and for all, the nonsense often associated with the payment of taxes by town employees. While it is true that they pay taxes, it is by no means true that they try to keep taxes down in so far as their own wages and salaries are concerned. Everyone knows that it is in their financial interest to raise their own share of the tax take as high as possible. No amount of sophistry is going to change that.

ENTERTAIN GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Sullivan and their five children of Bronxville, N. Y., spent the Easter holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Neville of Carmel rd. Mrs. Sullivan is Mrs. Neville's sister.

To the Editor of the Townsman:

"In response to the letter written by Miss Irene McCarthy, a town secretary, to the editor of the Townsman in last week's issue, the Andover Taxpayers Association would like to set the record straight. The purpose of the Andover Taxpayers Association in asking for a 2 percent reduction in the town budget was neither 'arbitrary' nor difficult to 'comprehend'. The association's reasons were stated clearly both in the pamphlet mailed to every voter and again on the floor of Town Meeting - we could not find a reasonable explanation for an 11 percent increase over last year's expenditure. The voters, in whose hands the ultimate decision rests, heard our message loud and clear and resoundingly endorsed it.

"'Blood, Sweat and Tears' not withstanding, all town budgets go through a series of steps during which realism is built in. The dedicated and responsible Finance Committee lopped $120,000 off 'the sincere efforts that had been made to submit realistic budgets on the first presentation'. The Finance Committee's budget conferences with department heads were by no means overlooked by the association; in fact our representatives were in attendance most of the time. We heard the explanations; no valid reasons were ignored. In conference, the Andover Taxpayers Association specifically asked the town manager to point out where his greatly increased budget could be curbed. This he would not do. Now, he is carrying out the will of the people and cutting out part of this fat.

"No cut in budget, particularly a cut of 2 percent, should have an adverse effect on honest, conciencious attempts to give efficient service. If it does, as Miss McCarthy implies it will, then someone will surely be held accountable. We do not believe that our department heads and town manager will become conniving, and deliberately pad or misrepresent their budgets, simply because the town meeting vote says - we are appalled at the rate of rising costs and want to keep government costs as low as possible consistent with efficient service.

"Any administration that [illegible] function properly at 98 percent [illegible] the funds it agrees to, needs some very careful self-examination, [illegible] believe our town manager has the ability and will effectively handle this curbing job."

Warning, Promise

Closer cooperation between the Recreation Committee and the Park Department brought words of warning and a promise, from Townsman William Stewart Monday night.

The Recreation Committee request through the town manager, for closer cooperation with the schools is desirable and will be welcome sought by that group.

Mr. Stewart warned his colleagues that athletics and recreation have become tightly-knit, and he wondered aloud where the dividing line between the school-sponsored and the town-sponsored programs is.

However he promised the Board that as far as he is concerned, "we shouldn't give anything to anywhere we have no control over funds".

Propose Fee For Pomp's Cars

A proposal to charge a dollar a year for parking privileges at Pomp's Pond hit a rocky snag at the Selectmen's meeting Monday night.

Noting that it is just a suggestion, requiring further study, town manager Thomas E. Duff pointed out that the Recreation Committee has mentioned this possibility. A 2-2 vote with one abstention and one absent resulted when the latter committee voted on the idea.

Selectman William Stewart pounced on the double-taxation issue at once. He wondered if it is proper to charge for parking, when the pond is supported by tax dollars.

The question of first-come, first-served parking also came up, as individuals wondered whether payment of a parking fee would entitle an individual to a space at any time. This would be impossible with no more than 200 spaces available.

"It's a good plan" commented Mr. Stewart "all it needs is revision".

COMMITTEE HAS BROAD POWERS

selected, and others will be added after further consultation among the five Selectmen.

The only ground rules for the study according to Mr. Allen, are that it be thorough, fair, and that it be finished in time for any recommendations to be presented to town meeting in 1964.

Mrs. Carl Johnson of Cleveland, Ohio enjoyed a weekend visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Harley of Amherst rd.

Dean and Mrs. Roy Pearson of Newton recently visited Roy Pearson of Andover st.

Young Republicans To Hear Graham

Senator Philip A. Graham of Hamilton Republican minority leader in the state senate, will state his views on two political questions in Andover next Wednesday night, April 24.

The occasion will be a meeting of the Young Republican Club of Greater Lawrence, at which Senator Graham will be featured speaker. The affair is to be held in the Log Cabin at 8 p.m.

The two questions which will be the theme for the senator's talk are "Does the Republican Party have a future in Massachusetts?" and "What should be the role of the individual Republican?". Following his talk, the featured speaker will answer questions and lead discussions on present political problems.

The club's agenda calls for a short business session and, following Senator Graham's talk, a social hour and refreshments will wind up the program.

TYER WAREHOUSE SOLD TO GILES

Rubber won the coveted Army-Navy E award in 1942 for products made there. Raincoats were manufactured for the Armed Forces and pontons for the Army Corps of Engineers.

Since that time the structure has been used entirely as a warehouse.

Original Site

Although no one can tell if part of the original building still remains in the many-times added-to and remodelled structure, the site of the warehouse was the first acquired by the original Tyer Rubber Co. That firm, privately owned started in Ballardvale in 1857. Some time later the first building went up on North Main st. Since then there have been additions and alterations so extensive in nature that the identity of the original building has been lost.

Commenting on his purchase, Mr. Giles suggested that property he is to acquire in the area - and other land he wants to obtain - makes it possible to plan for the entire approach to the square.

He envisions an approach that would find the Library the center of attraction via removal of some buildings. Plans for across the street from the warehouse include the possibility of shopping or office space.

He also mentioned the possibility that the town might wish to consider some re-arrangement of its municipal facilities - both on Lewis st. - to the rear of the warehouse - and on the town-owned Shaw property. The latter site contains an old barn, which is currently used for some storage by the Children's Theatre Workshop and the Red Cross. Mr. Giles mentioned the possibility that these uses might be transferred to some other location, if he can acquire the barn in order to tear it down.

Changes And Plans

In addition to the Tyer Rubber property Mr. Giles announced this week that the Andover Institute of Business will eventually occupy the second floor, above the A & P store. Work on that building has already begun he stated.

Taking the school's place in Olde Andover Village will be the Standard Register Co., which handles business forms.

Also moving into the Village will be the Prudential Insurance Co.

Giles also is planning to remodel the railroad waiting station in Ballardvale making it into an old-fashioned station, with outdoor and indoor waiting room facilities.

He stressed the importance of reviving Ballardvale Center, and said he hopes to persuade the Boston and Maine Railroad to utilize the Ballardvale station more frequently than is now the case.

Parking Access

In reference to his plans for the area around the A & P Mr. Giles said he also will acquire a house on Punchard ave, which will provide access to the potential parking area behind the building.

Although not included in his ownership, Giles also has plans for remodelling the building at the corner of Main st. and Punchard ave, with its present occupancy.

Among his other plans, the local contractor says he is presently negotiating with the Ben Franklin Stores for a prime downtown location in Andover. These stores are locally owned he explained, although they are members of the Ben Franklin chain.

Guest Night By Friendly Guild

The Friendly Guild of Christ Church will hold its annual guest night next Monday evening, April 22, at 7:45, in the Parish House.

Richard Trull will talk on "Flower Arrangements".

Mrs. James Poor is chairman, assisted by Miss Elizabeth Hilton, Mrs. Rudolph Perron, Mrs. David Anderson and Mrs. Albert Swenson.

The Guild will sponsor its dessert - card party next Wednesday, at 8 o'clock in the Parish House.

PERSONAL

Mrs. Leo Cooper and her children Tommie, Joan and Jimmey of Bar Harbor, Me., visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert MacMackin of Lovejoy rd. Mrs. Cooper was the former Pauline MacMackin.

Pen Drawings On Exhibit

The Spring exhibition, "Ornamental Pen Drawings", at the Addison Gallery of American Art, Phillips Academy reminds the visitor that in an age when the typewriter and dictating machine have done so much to relieve the businessman of the necessity of using his own hand, it is easy to forget that the pen was once mighty.

Approximately 100 examples of professional penmanship - representational flourishes and copybook examples - from the Handwriting Collection of Warren T. Johnson of Peterborough, N. H., demonstrate that for more than commercial reasons handwriting was a lively business for nearly a century.

The majority of examples in the exhibit illustrate the vogue for the Spencerian style of writing, originated by Platt R. Spencer about the middle of the 19th century. The style is characterized by "heavily embellished, shaded and ornamental strokes reflecting the tastes and styles of the Victorian era. It conformed naturally to the Gingerbread architecture and elaborateness in art, dress and overstuffed furniture," as one of the captions in the exhibit notes.

The principal part of the exhibit consists of drawings of ornate birds which are in essence demonstrations of dextrous skill on the part of teachers of elegant handwriting. These artists of the pen considered themselves as members of a professional club and would correspond with each other enthusiastically across the country much to the annoyance of the United States Postal Department which had difficulty in deciphering the over-ornamented envelopes. So far as is known, no woman was ever welcomed into the company of these otherwise ardent draftsmen.

In general this almost forgotten aspect of relatively recent Americana depended upon skill rather than upon taste. The drawings were executed very rapidly. Speed was essential in order to give grace and symmetry to the flowing lines which were produced with the whole arm, written from the shoulder.

The exhibition may be seen at the Addison Gallery through May 19. The Gallery is open without charge to the public at all times, Monday through Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Sundays 2:30 to 5 p.m.

British Film To Benefit Fund

"Two Way Stretch", a British film said to be Peter Sellars at his best, will be shown at 8 p.m. April 26 at Memorial Auditorium at the Junior High School.

A film all lovers of British satire won't want to miss, "Two Way Stretch", is being sponsored by the Andover Chapter, American Field Service. The Andover Chapter has been chartered to take part in the International Scholarship program of the American Field Service. This group has sponsored 13,353 foreign students in over 2 000 American towns during the years since 1947. The public is invited to this special showing of the movie. Tickets are on sale at Cole's Hardware or from the following members of the Andover Chapter, American Field Service: Mr. Robert Klie, Mr. Leslie Bartow, Mrs. Gordon Lauder, Mrs. R. M. Elks Applying For Club License

The Andover Benevolent Order of Elks headed by Raymond Lavin, has asked for an all-liquor, club license in the fraternal building on Park st.

The quarters were originally occupied by the Disabled American Veterans, and a license had been issued to that organization.

A hearing on the request was held Monday night, with no opposition expressed. The Selectmen took the matter under advisement.

A brief verbal tilt with Atty. Gerald Lewis, representing the Elks occurred over the exact terminology of the Board's motion.

It was finally agreed however, that if any opposition should develop and if the interested parties are at the Selectmen's meeting next Monday night they can be heard. The hearing was officially terminated Monday night, however. Mr. Lewis had objected to continuing the hearing to another night on legal technicalities which might have required further legal notices and considerable additional time.

The application states that David Batchelder will be manager of the Club if the license is granted.
